Crime bill will help with 'tools'By Scott Wuerz and Hilley Schulte
Staff writers

Two Democratic congressmen who differed on the federal crime bill were in the area this week to discuss the issue. And while the two have opposite views on gun control, both ultimately supported the bill.

U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello talked about the crime bill during a town meeting in Pontoon Beach Monday morning. He said he originally voted against the bill because it included gun control provisions; when some of those were eliminated, he voted in favor of it.

"When the (bill's) rule came to the House two weeks ago, it provided for no amendments. The rule included gun control, so I voted against it. It failed," he said.

Costello said, however, that he does believe there are some weapons which should not be available. So when the 455-page bill was altered from the original rule, "I voted for the bill because the benefits greatly outweighed the negative parts," he said.

U.S. Rep. Richard Durbin, meanwhile, appeared in Edwardsville Thursday to talk about the local impact of the new law.

While he said he is unsure if the crime plan will result in more police officers being put on the beat in Madison County municipalities, Durbin said the measure will give police more tools with which to fight crime.

"It's hard to say if the (crime plan) will mean new officers for Edwardsville or Collinsville; the cities would have to fill out an application to try to get the money," Durbin said. "But in many ways it will have both direct and indirect benefits for local law enforcement."

Among the benefits, Durbin listed the ban of 19 different types of assault weapons, additional prison space to house Illinois' convicted criminals and the possibility of bringing crime prevention grant money into Madison County.

Edwardsville Police Chief Ben Dickmann said he personally hopes to get funding through the crime law for projects such as the Edwardsville DARE chapter.

"Some of the opposition to the crime bill objected to its crime prevention programs as 'junk,' Dickmann said. "But I can tell you from personal experience that educational programs like DARE are very valuable. Crime prevention is very important, and it has to go hand in glove with law enforcement."

DARE is an educational program designed to teach school children about

Although phase three of the Pontoon Road construction project isn't set to begin until 1996 or 1997, many business owners are dreading it, and others are still feeling the effects of the last phase.

Carol Payne, manager of Rebecam Auto Parts, doesn't think the next phase will affect the store's business as much as the last time, but she still is not looking forward to it. "We lost all of our walk-in trade the last time. They completely shut the road down. With a project like that, that takes a year, people get used to going somewhere else," said Payne.

Payne said the auto parts store was completely inaccessible. "That was just ridiculous. At the other end they always had at least one lane open. I doubt that they'll completely shut the road off during the next phase because there are so many businesses down there," she commented.

Like Payne, Ray Wood of Wood Lock and Key Service said his business was greatly affected.

"My walk-in business dropped 80 percent. There wasn't enough business to hardly keep the doors open," he stated.

The sad thing is, Wood's business hasn't all returned now that

Officials at odds
over pollution

SPRINGFIELD — State and federal officials are at odds over an interpretation of federal rules that could push the area into a more serious air pollution category requiring stricter regulations.

Placing the St. Louis metro area into the "serious" from the current "moderate" ozone pollution category in 1996 is unreasonable, said an Illinois official.

The shift could mean more pollution controls and limits on road construction and business expansion, officials said.

The metropolitan area has until November 1996 to bring its levels of ozone below federal health and safety standards under the federal Clean Air Act. Ozone can cause health problems for those with respiratory illnesses and it is one of the main ingredients in smog.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency interprets the law to mean that no more than one testing station in a metro area may exceed the standard any more than once per year from 1994 through 1996, said Ryan Teeter of the agency's regional office in Kansas City.

"Since there have already been four exceedences this summer at a single site (Queeny Park in St. Louis County), statistically that is more than one over three years so even if there were none in

Girl hit by postal truck, dies

Truck was traveling only 5 miles per hour

An 22-month-old Granite City girl died from traumatic injuries to the head and chest Friday afternoon after being struck by a U.S. postal truck in the 3300 block of Kirkpatrick Homes.

According to police reports, Amber L. Voloski, 1211 Rear Meridian, was hit by a mail truck driven by Evelyn J. Gillespie, 41 of South Roxana, at 2:50 p.m. Friday.

Witnesses said Gillespie was northbound in the alley of the 3300 block of Kirkpatrick Homes traveling at about five miles per hour. As the driver attempted to turn right into the 4300 block alley, the child ran into the path of the truck from the left.

Voloski was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City and pronounced dead at 3:18 p.m.

"I'm sorry that it ever happened. Every report that I've seen says that the carrier was not at fault," said Granite City Postmaster Charles Parkinson.

Assistant Police Chief Kip Pomeroy said the investigation into the incident is continuing.

Survivors include her parents, Angela Hucks and Matthew Voloski, both of Granite City; one sister, Krystin Hucks of Granite City; and her grandparents, Larry and Rhonda Rutter and Gerald and Frances Voloski, all of Granite City.

Services were held Tuesday at Werner Chapel for Funerals, Pontoon Beach. Burial was in Mount Evergreen Cemetery, Millstadt.

It was the second fatality in a week involving young children. On Aug. 23, a 23-month-old Madison girl was crushed by a pickup truck driven by her aunt while she was playing in the family's driveway.

The girl, Crystal Holland, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Elizabeth Medical Center from injuries to the head.

Inside

Our salute to labor

As we prepare to enjoy the three-day Labor Day weekend, the Suburban Journals are recognizing the working people of our area with a special Salute to Labor section to be found inside today's Journal.

The special section features profiles on some of the people who make up the workforce in the Metro East, and how they feel about their jobs.

We hope our readers enjoy this look at Metro East residents at work. And we at the Journals tip our hats to every one who works for a living, no matter what their occupation.

MADD head's spouse faces DUI charge

A leader of Mothers Against Drunk Driving said her husband's indictment on a DUI charge will only increase her resolve.

"If anything, this incident is going to force me to dig my heels in deeper," Carolyn Dearduff said Thursday, shortly after her husband, Kenneth, was indicted by a Madison County grand jury.

Kenneth Dearduff faces a charge of driving under the influence after an Aug. 3 motorcycle accident that left him seriously injured.

He was also charged with operating an uninsured vehicle and operating a vehicle with expired registration. All of the charges are misdemeanors.

The DUI charges are based on hospital blood records taken after Dearduff, 32, was rushed to Wood River Township Hospital shortly after he lost control of his motorcycle on Birch Road in Fort Russell Township near Edwardsville.

He is recovering at home from broken ribs, a broken collarbone and hand and a punctured lung.

Dearduff was moved to the hospital before sheriff's deputies arrived on the scene. The Edwardsville Police Department was notified first of the accident but turned it over to the Sheriff's Department when it was determined the accident was in the county's jurisdiction.

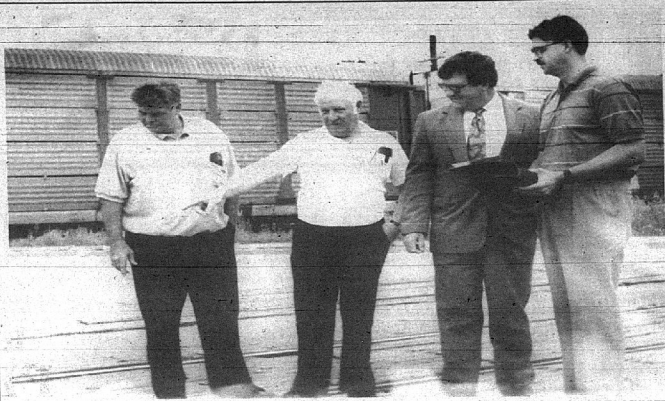

Carolyn Dearduff, who formed the local MADD chapter shortly after her brother died in a motorcycle accident, dismissed rumors that she plans to resign as president of the chapter because of the charges against her husband.

"I can't be held responsible for everyone's actions. I wish it never happened, but I feel some thing positive will come of it. Right now, I'm just thankful my husband is alive and no one else is hurt as a result of this accident," she said.

Dearduff received widespread support Thursday for her role as MADD president.

"She should not be held responsible," said Madison County Sheriff Bob Churchich, whose deputy investigated the accident. "She does a good job with MADD. My office has had a good working relationship with her and I expect it to continue. She has been good to us, and this is just part of life."

— Touring some of Granite City's railroad crossings Monday were: Clayton "Jug" Harrison, Granite City superintendent of streets; Foster Frederick, Fourth Ward alderman; Mayor Ron Selph; and Laurence Andrews, railroad safety specialist from the Illinois Commerce Commission.

ICC official checks out rail crossings

At the request of Granite City Mayor Ron Selph, Laurence Andrews, a railroad safety specialist from the Illinois Commerce Commission, visited Granite City Monday to check railroad crossings in the area.

Selph said he has received several complaints about the roughness of the tracks, and after Monday's tour, Andrews agreed that some of the crossings are in poor condition. Andrews said he will request that action be taken for improvement, Selph reported.

Accompanying Selph and Andrews on the tour were Clayton "Jug" Harrison, Granite City superintendent of streets; Foster Frederick, Fourth Ward alderman; and Jon Juneau, Granite City engineer.

The group looked at railroad crossings at West Pontoon Beach Road, Maryville and Nameoki roads, Neidringhaus, Twentieth, Twenty-second, Twenty-fifth streets, and Fourteenth Street and Edwardsville Road.

"He (Andrews) did see that there is a need for improvement," Selph said.

"He said he will take the issue to his superiors and see what can be done. He was very helpful," Selph said.

the dangers of substance abuse, and it teaches them how to say no to drugs and alcohol, Dickmann said.

"While I doubt (Edwardsville) we add any new officers to the payroll, I think we will receive other indirect benefits from the crime plan," Dickmann said. "Crime is a regional problem, and what is good for the big cities is good for the surrounding municipalities."

Dickmann said that if the crime bill helps the city of St. Louis get a handle on its crime problems, it will mean less residual crime will ripple out to its suburbs, including the ones in Madison County.

Now that the crime law has been passed, Durbin said his first priority is to help officials from his district understand what is available to them.

"There is money in the crime plan for everyone from rural areas up to major cities," Durbin said. "I plan to call on mayors, chiefs of police and other officials to help them with the application process (for crime law grants)."

The crime law, which was passed by the House of Representatives last week, was approved by a 61-38 margin in the Senate. Durbin said the Senate needed 60 votes to pass the law, which had been debated for more than six years.

The plan is expected to put 4,400 officers on the streets and build $223 million worth of new prisons across the country. It also banned 19 types of assault rifles and designated the death penalty as an option to 50 types of crimes, Durbin said.

Recycling requirement on the horizon Pontoon officials get a lesson in trash

By Hiley Schulte
Staff writer

Pontoon Beach officials got a lesson in trash last week.

Denise McLeary, a solid waste expert from Madison County Building Zoning and Environmental department, addressed the Pontoon Beach Village Board of Trustees Tuesday night about a new Madison County recycling ordinance which passed July 20.

The ordinance deals with controlling solid waste management through curbside recycling and will go into effect July 1, 1996. Each resident in Madison County will then have to separate newspapers, aluminum cans, tin cans, glass and plastic from other garbage.

McLeary said that even though the ordinance doesn't go into effect for a couple of years, municipalities should begin thinking about methods of recycling because the ordinance isn't restricted to a curbside recycling program.

"Haulers will no longer pick up trash with recyclable goods in it," she said. McLeary suggested contractual agreements with haulers to pick up trash as well as recyclables.

However, villages are not required to follow a county program. "If villages don't want to be involved in mandatory recycling, they can say they'll meet 25 percent of the recycling and operate it on their own," she said.

But she emphasized that the requirement must be met and independent operation includes things like education and promotion of the recycling program.

"If villages don't want to be involved in mandatory recycling, they can say they'll meet 25 percent of the recycling and operate it on their own."

She said the county is also prepared to financially assist implementation of the program. The county will hold a meeting about the ordinance from 10 a.m. to noon Thursday, Oct. 6, in the County Board room of the Madison Administration Building.

In other business, Pontoon Beach residents will receive services from Crown Cable at least through November after the board approved a 180-day extension ordinance with Crown for cable services.

Crown Media asked for a 19-month contract, but because the company said it could not extend services to meet areas at Arlington and McDonald Lake Road, the board only agreed to the short term contract.

"Until we can get some answers, let's approve it for 180 days and explore our options," said Trustee Mike Mackel. The 180-day contract started May 21 and will end in November.

Following a public hearing, the board concurred with a zoning board recommendation to rezone 4552 Highway 162 from B-1 to B-2 General Business on a petition from Randy Viessman.

Viessman plans to operate an emergency towing service.

The zoning board placed restrictions on its recommendation including no cars allowed in front and at the side of the building, cars will be kept in the fenced area only, gates will be added to the wood fence and cars are to be held one week to 10 days maximum except for police or insurance investigation.

However, the board approved the rezoning without the restrictions and agreed to place the restrictions instead on the business license.

"How can we put restrictions on that? Say the business lasts one year or six months or whatever, and a new business comes in, will they have the same restrictions?" asked Trustee Mackel.

Madison County Board member Don Rea, who was in the audience, then suggested

Transit district endorses proposal

Comprehensive transportation plan will be county's first

By Hiley Schulte
Staff writer

The Madison County Transit Board agreed to participate in a long-range transportation plan for Madison County, the first ever, at its regular meeting Thursday.

Nelson Hagauer, chairman of the Transit District and the Madison County Board, announced the approval of funds to prepare for the comprehensive plan.

The study will lead to a 20-year plan for modernizing existing transportation facilities and services, including streets and roads, public transit services, river and airports, bikeways and pedestrian facilities.

The plan will also examine future options ranging from commuter rail service to new bridge connections across the Mississippi River. Costs of the study will be shared by Madison County Transit and the County Board.

"This will be the first comprehensive countywide plan in the county's 176-year history.

Considering the age and condition of our transportation facilities, and the critical relationship between transportation infrastructure and our quality of life, today's board action couldn't be more timely," Hagauer said.

Regional transportation projects currently under consideration in Metro East include an extension of Metrolink to Scott Air Force Base in St. Clair County; the planned opening of Scott to commercial air traffic in 1996; state plans for a high speed rail line between Chicago and St. Louis; and a realignment of Illinois 3 between Venice and Cahokia.

Hagauer said he will appoint a project steering committee comprised of citizens, local officials, civic leaders, labor representatives and developers to oversee the study process. "The entire community will have the opportunity to participate in this important effort," he said.

In other business, Jerry Kane, Madison Transit managing director, was directed to begin negotiations for acquiring real estate adjoining the transit district's property in Pontoon Beach off Illinois 111.

The property belongs to Janice White, said Bill Beatty, attorney, for the transit district.

Kane said, "It will take several years to acquire. We have 27 buses earmarked from a recent appropriations bill, and we're going to need someplace to store them."

Board member Cheryl Jones submitted a letter of resignation, because of relocation. The board accepted the resignation, and Hagauer announced that he will recommend Sharon Daniels to the County Board as a replacement.

The board also said a few minor routing changes have occurred on the Madison, Eagle Park, Granite City-Alton and Bethalto routes. Earlier trips have also been added to the Venice and Granite City-Alton routes.

It's late August . . . it's Planting Time!

Here are tips from the experts at

FRANK'S NURSERY & CRAFTS

Where Beautiful Things Begin

What's the best time of the year? Tough question. Some like Christmas and New Year's festivities, others yearn for 90-degree days at poolside, and some love the crispness of fall. But when it comes to planting, there's no difference of opinion, at least there shouldn't be. The best time is the fall.

The amount of daylight has been decreasing steadily since late June, but nobody noticed back then. Different story now. And the normal temperature is slightly cooler now than it was. Shorter days and cooler temperatures are optimum conditions for planting. And that goes for lawns as well as trees and shrubs.

True, summer doesn't officially end until later this month, but Labor Day usually means it's over. After all, when the kids are back in school and Sundays are filled with football, it sure sounds like fall. Besides, it's close enough to the official date.

Has your lawn become rather patchy over the summer? It can be fixed without a lot of effort. Here's how to do it.

Rake out any existing grass and work the soil with a rake or hoe. Apply Frank's Seed Starter Fertilizer (18-24-6) to the area and rake it in. Then choose either a sunny or shady blend of seed and scatter it over the area. One of those little hand-held spreaders we mentioned Sunday would come in handy here, unless you have a very small area. Lightly rake the seed into the soil and cover it with weed-free straw.

To reseed an entire lawn, follow the above procedure. First, though, you'll need to remove all existing weeds and grass, and that's done easily by using Ortho Kleenup®, a non-selective vegetation killer. Simply put, this means it will kill anything it contacts, so use it with care.

Follow the same steps as in patching bare spots. When the new grass reaches about three inches in height, you can mow it. Don't apply any additional fertilizer until next spring.

When the straw is spread over the yard, it should be kept moist. Dry straw can get scattered about by the wind, and it's a sure-fire way to irritate neighbors.

When you plant trees and shrubs now, they'll have the entire fall season and next spring to become established and develop strong, vigorous root systems. This will better equip them to withstand next summer's searing heat.

The experts at Frank's know that this is the best time of the year for planting, and fresh, top-quality plants are being offered now at all stores. And they're on sale! Every Frank's landscape plant is guaranteed for one full year. So if one should fail to thrive, simply dig it up and return it to Frank's with your receipt. When you plant Frank's products, it's worry-free!

Here's How It Works:

Just fill out the credit card application and bring it in with the coupons to Venture. Give your application to the hostess at the front of the store. When you check out, give the coupons to the cashier and he / she will apply them toward your purchase. We'll submit your application for processing, since all applications are subject to credit approval. As an added bonus, when you receive your Venture Credit Card in the mail, we'll enclose a coupon for 10% off a future Venture purchase.

Family Festival set for Sept. 10*Local schools, groups to take part in event

The Granite City Drug Free by 2000 Task Force held its last Family Festival '94 planning meeting Monday at the Elks Lodge.

Ten elementary schools, one junior high and the area council PTA will sponsor 40-50 game booths at the Sept. 10 fair from noon to 4 p.m. The fair will be held "rain or shine" in or around the Wilson Park Ice Rink.

Parents from the PTAs and PTAs at Wilson, Prather, Frohardt, Holy Family, Lake, Mitchell, Worthen, Maryville, Marshall, Niedringhaus, Grigsby and the area council PTA will work the booths.

Mary Voss, Prather teacher, who is chairman of the game booths, and her committee members, Sandy Brandon, Prather PTA treasurer; Debbie Marshall, PTA chairperson of the Prather library; and Susan Miller, area council vice president and Grigsby PTA second vice president; said game booths will include:

- Wilson, digging for gold, big mouth toss, picket ladies, duck pond, poster throw, tic-tac-toe and ring-a-clown;
  - Prather, golf, animal walk, ping-pong toss, baseball, lollipop tree and 7-11;
  - Frohardt, crocodile pond, putt-putt and scooter race;
  - Holy Family, putt-putt golf, 7-11 toss and Hannigans dice game;
  - Lake, duck pond, spin and win and ball toss;
  - Mitchell, tic-tac-toe and read my lips;
  - Grigsby, hair spray fashions and sand bottles;
  - Worthen, ring toss and bean bag toss;
  - Maryville, helium balloons, thumb prints and grab bags;
  - Marshall, ring toss and washers;
  - Niedringhaus, gold fish toss, soccer kick and golf game; and
  - Area council PTA, poster toss.
- Special tables will offer face painting. Artists are Karen Davis York, task force treasurer; Priscilla Holder, school district secretary to the AV director and the gifted coordinator; Kitty Reither, IBM specialist; and Barbara Barr, Magna Carta personal banker. Yorky the Clown, also known as Justin York, sixth-grade student at Frohardt, will make animal balloons at the fair.

Presale game tickets, good for game booths, face painting and animal balloons, are available at each of the above schools, from PTAs and PTAs. Presale price is 15 tickets for $1. Day-of-festival game tickets purchased at the fair are 10 for $1.

The Press-Record/Journal office will supply the task force with enough copies of the coloring picture published in the June 25 issue of the Granite City Journal in its "Just Say No to Drugs" coloring booklet.

The task force will distribute these copies to elementary schools for use by interested students. This picture can be exchanged at the Elks booth on Sept. 10 for five free game booth tickets by any 0 through sixth-grade student, one picture per child.

Paula Hubbard, prevention specialist at Coordinated Youth Services, and Sandy Crites, Seventh Ward alderman and DAKE committee president, announced the following performance and award schedule to take place from noon to 4 p.m. on the entertainment stage inside the ice rink:

- Granite City Senior High School Band, National Anthem, followed by a welcome by Mayor Ron Selph, who will award the parade Mayor's Trophy;
- Parade trophies;
- Pamela Dubineck, poster contest recognition, Showtime Express, introduced by artistic director

Lisa Fensterman, Drill team, Mexican Honorary Dancers, Eileen Steppers Dancers, Family Worship Kids, Imperial Swing Dancers, Summerstage introduced by artistic director Beverly Scroggins.

Barbershop Quartet introduced by Dick Oliver, Chris Kraus and Holy Family Guitar Group. Nick Novacich, president of the high school student body and co-chairman of the parade, announces additional parade entries:

A surprise color guard unit, the fire department fire safety house and "Pluggie," the Warrior hockey team, Board of Education Vice President Pete Novacich, Granite City School Superintendent Steve Balen, Mayor of Granite City Ron Selph, poster contest winners ride with DARE Bear on DARE float, all district and PTA contest winners float and PTA floats from Mitchell, Frohardt and Niedringhaus.

Steve Hamilton, high school activities director and co-chairman of the parade, said: "We hope that all schools will participate."

Individuals or groups wanting to be in the parade should call Hamilton at 238-5059 or 451-5808. Novacich will confirm all entries in the parade by Sept. 7.

Judy Curry, police department secretary and co-chairman of the citywide essay contest, said that fliers explaining the categories and guidelines of this contest will be given to students to take home during the first week of school. Teachers also will announce this contest in their classrooms. Essay categories are kindergarten through third grade students, fourth through sixth grade students, junior and senior high school students, adults age 18 to 55, seniors 55 and over and families.

Entries should be sent or delivered on or before Wednesday, Sept. 7, to Curry or Roy Koberna, captain, police department, 2330 Madison Ave., Granite City.

Food, on a cash basis, will be available at the fair from noon to 4 p.m. Randy Witter of the Elks Lodge chairs the food booths. Volunteers are needed to man these booths, which will sell hamburgers, hot dogs, soda, snow cones, cotton candy and nachos with cheese. Interested persons may call Witter at the Elks Lodge at 931-3557.

The United Way has funded the task force with an additional $1,400 grant to expand the focus of this anti-drug community effort beyond the Family Festival '94 parade and fair activities. Permanent informational street signs will be placed 1,000 feet from all Granite City schools. This a cooperative effort between United Way and the task force to promote a drug-free community throughout the year and not limit the effort to an annual Family Festival held during one weekend in September.

Real estate course slated

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a course in real estate transactions this fall.

Sponsored by the Office of Continuing Education, classes will meet Wednesdays from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 2409 of the Peck Classroom Building, beginning Sept. 28 and continuing through Dec. 7. Registration is $95 — textbooks are not included in the registration fee.

Satisfactory completion of this non-credit course will meet the requirements for taking the Illinois salesperson license examination. Additional information is available from the SIUE Office of Continuing Education at 692-3210.

Construction of the administrative office and support center, R.W. Boeker Co., Inc. of Hamel, has the contract for $299,000.

Construction of the second multi-tenant building was initiated in April by RWR Associates of St. Louis, which has a 69-year lease on the site. The building will have approximately 5,000 square feet, aimed at small, specialized tenants.

Tax seminar next week at SIUE

A tax seminar for owners, supervisors and managers of small businesses will be offered at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Sept. 7.

The seminar, which is being sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service, the Illinois Department of Employment and Revenue and the Small Business Development Center at SIUE, will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the University Center Board Room.

A representative from the IRS will introduce participants to federal employment tax responsibilities, including withholding and depositing federal income and social security taxes, as well as the payment of federal unemployment insurance.

Unemployment insurance, withholding tax, state income and sales tax will be among the topics discussed by the IDER representative.

Registration, which covers lunch and all seminar materials, is $20. To register and for more information call Rick Russell at the SIUE Small Business Development Center, 692-2929.

Mildred Shreve

Mildred Betty Jane Lee (Farnsworth) Shreve, 89, of Granite City, formerly of Buckhannon, W.Va., died at 6:48 a.m. Monday, Aug. 29, 1994, at her residence after a four-month illness. She was born Aug. 15, 1905, in Buckhannon and had been a resident of Granite City for seven years.

A homemaker, she was of the Family Services and Visiting Nurses Association of Alton and by other agencies.

"The new county health department may want to take over some of those programs or they may want to let FSVNA continue to do those things for them," Schaffer said.

Monday said there is no plan to take over services already being provided by other agencies.

department would limit its responsibilities to the four basic areas required for state funding.

They are infectious disease control, well water monitoring, private sewage inspections and restaurant inspections.

Schaffer, however, noted that county health departments elsewhere in the state are given a variety of other state grants to operate additional programs.

Many of those are operated by Tom Schaffer.

After a decades-long battle, the Madison County Board voted 15-1 Aug. 17 to establish the department.

The grant is based on a formula of 90 cents per person and can be renewed for a second year, Schaffer added.

The money can be used to hire a director, other personnel and pay for physical facilities to house the department.

Madison County Board Administrator James Monday said he expects it will take two years for the department to get into operation.

Once the department is operating, Madison County will be eligible for $365,000 per year in state grants and will employ 22.

Local taxes will make up the difference between the state share and the estimated total operating cost of $80,000 a year.

Road

the road is open again.

"People got used to the other route," he said. "They stopped at my competitor's. They are gradually coming back, and hopefully within a couple of months, we'll get it all back."

And hopefully keep it when the construction starts again. "It'll probably be the same thing all over again. It'll be right back where it was. It'll be six months to a year after it's all done before things get back to normal," Wood said.

Others were a little more fortunate with the road construction. William Nolan of Nolan Accounting said the construction didn't really affect his business at all. "It's a different kind of business. I don't rely on walk-in trade. It's a seasonal thing. I either go to them, or they know where I'm at," he stated.

Dr. Mark Eavenson of Eavenson Chiropractic agreed. "The construction didn't have an effect at all. People took alternate routes to get here. If people have to get somewhere, they find a way to do it," he said.

Eavenson said he did see a drastic increase in business when the construction was done because of easier accessibility.

Nameoki United Methodist Church didn't have a problem with the construction either. "Actually, attendance grew, and I have no idea why," noted Pastor James Haas.

Joe Juneau, Granite City engineer, said the next phase of construction will occur on Pontoon Road between Wabash and Maryville Roads. He said the amount of time the construction will last depends on the time of year the work is started. The first part of the construction project was from Nameoki Road to Wabash Avenue.

Pollution

1995 or 1996 the area would probably be bumped up to the serious classification," Tester said.

But an Illinois Environmental Protection Agency official contends the interpretation by the federal agency is unreasonable and the criteria should be whether there are no violations of the standard in the final year of 1996.

IEPA Air Quality Planning Manager Toby Frevert said using this summer's results "is absurd because ozone is so heavily influenced by weather patterns. You can have the same level of emissions and no violations in a cool, wet summer and several in a hot, dry summer."

This summer's weather has mostly been in the latter category and there have been two days in which the ozone hazard level of 120 parts per million was exceeded in Madison County and seven days in which it was exceeded in the Missouri part of the metro area.

In Madison County there were 128 parts per million in Alton on Aug. 12 and 125 parts per million at a Wood River testing station on the same day. On June 20, there were 137 parts per million recorded at Maryville.

Frevert also protested that "most of our programs to reduce emissions are not in place yet."

For example, an expanded vehicle tailpipe testing program that will add more cars and more stringent tests in Madison and St. Clair counties will not start until next year but is part of the state's strategy to meet the ozone requirements by 1996.

If the U.S. EPA were to upgrade the St. Louis metro area to "serious" for ozone, additional strategies may be required. Companies with fleets would have to have vehicles burning natural gas or other alternative fuels would likely be required, Frevert said.

RSVP is seeking school volunteers

Back to school is an exciting time. Schools offer many volunteer opportunities which allow volunteers to share in the excitement and help prepare children for the future. Volunteers are needed in a wide range of situations from working in the classroom, in libraries, in computer and shop classes and in office and support positions, to working one-on-one with children in homework help rooms and reading assistant programs. Belleville Area College's Retired And Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) can assist you in finding your volunteer opportunity within our community schools. Contact Joy Caschetta, volunteer coordinator, Belleville Area College, 4950 Maryville Road, Granite City, 931-7018, for a listing of school that need or assistance or volunteers.

Mechanic spends spare time tinkering with grist mill

By Deb Sauherage
Correspondent

Gene Siegel stands out in the hot sun and patiently explains how his machine from an earlier time works. "The gas engine moves the belt, which moves the two big stones together," he says. "The stones grind the grain to make flour." Siegel, from Mascoutah, a mechanic by day, likes to "tinker" on the weekends with his grist mill. We were on vacation several years ago and saw it in the woods in a fenced-in lot in Tennessee," he said. "We asked around town who owned the lot."

His search led him to the owner, an elderly man in a rest home. The next weekend Siegel returned to pick it up. The Meadows Grist Mill was made in 1927. The gas engine is a 1948 John Deere W stationary engine, made especially for mills. Siegel made many repairs in getting the mill in working condition, including restoring the engine and replacing a few parts on the mill and the trailer. Several weekends a year Siegel takes the mill on the road at festivals to give people a glimpse of bygone days. "Most people don't know what it is," he said. "It's tall and you can't see inside." If you could look inside, you would see two flat stones, 20 inches in diameter rubbing together, he said. Siegel speculates the machinery probably belonged to a mill or a large farming operation. Farmers would bring their wheat or corn into the mill to be ground into flour or corn meal. Siegel grows corn and wheat without chemicals to use in the mill. "My wife, Jean, makes whole wheat bread and cookies," he said. "We mill the wheat or corn and sell the flour and include recipes." "I'm not into the selling part," he said. "We enjoy showing people how it works."

SIUE offers test workshops

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer two separate one-day test workshops for high school students or adults seeking assistance prior to taking the American College or Scholastic Aptitude tests.

One-day workshops are scheduled Sept. 24 and Oct. 1. Both workshops will be conducted in Room 3303 of the Peck Classroom Building from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. Deadline for registration for the Sept. 24 workshop is Sept. 16. Deadline for the Oct. 1 workshop is Sept. 23.

Topics to be considered include specific information about the ACT and SAT tests, time management during test-taking and other strategies for taking standardized tests. Participants will have the opportunity to practice taking test samples and receive instruction on the analogy, grammar, vocabulary, reading comprehension, mathematics and science sections of the ACT and SAT tests.

Strategies for test-taking, anxiety reduction, time management and other related topics will also be discussed.

Pre-registration is required. Registration for either workshop is $25 and includes a study guide and other materials.

Those who are interested may contact the SIUE Office of Continuing Education at 692-3210 for additional information.

Metro East players fill up record book

No wonder fans of Illinois State University football are optimistic.

Sure, it's been well-documented that former Belleville Althoff running back Hickey Thompson and former East St. Louis Senior High star Chris Moore will be in the Redbird fold this fall. According to a recent Illinois High School Association publication, ISU has two of the state's best ever.

THE IHSA record book is so dominated by Thompson and Moore that it's nearly impossible to list all their records.

Moore completed his East Side career in 1991 with a state-record 5,174 yards and 86 touchdowns. Thompson closed his Althoff career in 1990 with a national-best 3,015 yards rushing.

Thompson was so dominant in the 1990 postseason that the IHSA record book devotes a quarter of a page to his efforts that eventually led to a 21-13 win over Rock Island Alleman in the Class 3A title game.

In five playoff games, he carried 128 times for 1,225 yards (an average of 9.6 per carry) and 14 TDs. His total offense, including pass receptions, amounted to 10.5 yards per play.

Against Monticello in a 48-7 semifinal win, he rushed 25 times for 148 yards and four TDs in a 48-6 romp over Glenbard North in the 1990 Class 3A title game, but it was in the quarterfinals where he set records with most points (42), most touchdowns (7) and most TDs rushing (7) against Elgin-Lombard.

PAGE AFTER PAGE has HT and CM records, including Thompson's eight games rushing for more than 200 yards and 13 times of 100 or more.

Moore holds the state record for rushing TDs in a career (88), but in looking at that mark I found reference to Billy Greenwald of Highland tied for fourth at 68. Greenwald, though, leads with TDs in a season with 45 in 1989.

Other Southwestern Illinois players listed include Deandre Singleton of East Side with a state second-best 38 TD passes in a season (1990). The longest TD pass play in state history was a 99-yarder from Ronnie Cameron to Lavent Blaylock in 1984 against Buffalo Grove.

Homer Bush of East Side has the season record for receiving TDs (22) and yards (1,431) in 1990 on 70 receptions. Marc Tuttle of Edwardsville is seventh in receptions in a game (13).

JOE STAHLSCHEIDT of Columbia stands third in single-game rushing yards at 224 in 1980 vs. Stanton. Jeff Hornberger of Edwardsville is fifth in average yards rushing per carry at 8.8 (career 1974-76).

Marquette's Craig Hentrich remains the state's premier punter-placemaker with a 75-yard punt vs. Mascoutah in 1967 as fourth-best and a 55-yard field goal in '68 tied for second.

Althoff's Drake Marshall is tied for second in pass interceptions in a season (14 in 1990). Deron Patton of Columbia is No. 1 with nine fumble recoveries in a season ('89).

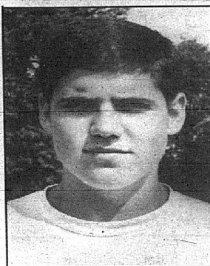

Scott Germain of Columbia has a career best of 336 solo tackles ('87-88) while Joe Leitner of Edwardsville has a season-best 168 stops.

Ames, Lady Warriors looking to serve up successful season

By Rob Raphael
Correspondent

Does a new coach and a new attitude mean new success in 1994?

That question should be answered this fall as the Lady Warrior tennis team prepares to do battle in the tough Southwestern Conference.

The Lady Warriors finished 4-10 in 1993, but their No. 1 doubles team of Marcel Holsinger and Stacy Rath did make it to the second round of the tennis sectional.

THIS YEAR, THE Lady Warriors and new coach Linda Ames will face the season without Rath, but Holsinger is back as the team's No. 1 singles player.

Ames also has a group of players who, in her words, have improved greatly over the last two weeks of practice.

"The difference between two weeks ago and now is tremendous," she said. "I think we are coming together as a team. The players' attitude has been wonderful."

Ames said Holsinger is "by

The Warrior soccer team survived a heated affair in its season opener Saturday, posting a hard-fought 4-2 victory over Peoria Richwoods in overtime.

The match was played in Peoria under grueling conditions with temperatures approaching 100 degrees. The Warriors outshot the hosts 17-7, but failed to capitalize on several scoring chances and found themselves in a 2-2 battle after neither team scored in the second half to force overtime.

Shawn Petroski scored two goals in the first 10-minute session of overtime to lift Granite City to the victory. The Warriors held Richwoods scoreless for the final 60 minutes of play after surrendering two goals in the first half.

"IT SHOWED SOME weaknesses and it showed some strengths," GCHS coach Gene Baker said of the team's first game. "We really need to do a lot of work and repair."

"It was very hot, and we took a beating. I think the heat had an effect on everyone."

Granite City took a 1-0 lead at the seven-minute mark when Scott Nemeth scored the Warriors' first goal of the season on a play set up by John Nizinski. Richwoods, however, answered with a goal five minutes later.

Nemeth

City's Matt Wilson scored on a feed by Jon Reader to make it 2-1. But the Knights came back again with another goal in the closing minutes of the half.

"We just completely broke down," Baker said. "It was wide open early."

THE MATCH REMAINED tied through the second half, although Granite City controlled most of the play. The Warriors picked up the pace in overtime, when Petroski scored twice in a one-minute span.

"Really, the team is dominated by upperclassmen," Ames said, "but I have a lot of young players who will lead this team, especially in singles."

Ames' No. 2 singles player will be sophomore Geeta Kumar, a three-sport athlete whom Ames said has the speed to get to just about everything on the court.

"IT'S A GOOD match when Marcel and Geeta play head to head," she said.

The No. 3 singles player will be senior Wendy Atkinson, who has improved greatly in the last year according to Ames. The fourth singles player is a freshman, Melissa Smith. Ames said Smith has been a "blessing" for the team.

Ames said her singles lineup is set.

"Those four should play most of the year," she said. "They are all quality players and good athletes. They all know their fundamental strokes and their footwork is good."

Although the doubles teams are set as well, the order in which they will play has not been determined, and Ames said they may switch around. Senior Sabina Kumar and junior Chris Oberloh (a transfer from McCluer High School) appear to

GCHS golfers place 10th at Quincy

By Rob Raphael
Correspondent

Before the Granite City Warriors traveled to Quincy, Ill., for a golf tournament Saturday, coach Boone Chaney was not sure how well his team would do.

Even he sounded surprised after the tournament, which was held at West View Golf Course in Quincy.

"Well, actually, we did quite well," Chaney said modestly.

INDEED THEY DID, as the Warrior golfers, playing in one of the toughest fields possible in the state, came out with a respectable 10th-place finish in a field of 30 teams from across Illinois.

Teams from nearly every large city in the state were on hand, including Belleville, Springfield, Peoria, Champaign-Urbana, Bloomington and Chicago.

John Green
Low scorer

Granite City shot a team score of 409 to finish just behind ninth place Peoria Richwoods (408) and just ahead of Springfield (411) on the par-71 course.

The course seemed to offer a distinct advantage to the home team. Quincy routed its opponents and won the tourney with a team score of 374, 15 strokes better than second-place Galesburg (389).

Pekin (399) finished third, and Rock Island and Stephen Decatur tied for the fourth spot at 401. Belleville East showed it would again be a force on the links this year after finishing sixth at 404.

"BOTH OF THE Belleville schools shot well," Chaney said. "That was expected. But I am happy with the way we shot Saturday. I knew we had the talented kids to do well, but you just never know what will happen in a tournament setting like this. I was pleasantly surprised."

Belleville West came in at 430

Racing star Wallace set for return to Tri-City Speedway

Fresh off his Winston Cup victory in Saturday's Goody's 500 at Bristol International Raceway, Rusty Wallace returns home to the St. Louis area to serve as Grand Marshall for tonight's Miller Genuine Draft Classic at Tri-City Speedway.

Rusty captured his sixth Winston Cup victory of 1994 at Bristol and said he's happy to return to the speedway that helped sharpen his skills.

"I'm really looking forward to coming home to St. Louis because I haven't been home, one Tri-City, in several years," he said.

The Miller Genuine Draft Classic for UMP Late Models and UMP Modifieds has current UMP points leader Ed Dixon, Mark Voigt, Bo Smith and Mike Hammer leading the list of competitors.

CURRENT TRI-CITY Speedway points leader Marc McClintock will join local favorites Kevin Gundaker and Rusty Wallace in challenging some of the nation's best dirt track Late Model drivers on the lightning-fast half-mile. Spectator gates open at 5 p.m., and an autograph session with Wallace is scheduled from 6 to 8 p.m. with racing at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $15 for adults and $5 for children 12 and under.

After two years of hard charging, Dave Boston scored his first career main event victory in Saturday's Clark "On the GO" Racing Series Modified feature. Boston's win was the third goal in his hat trick.

Missed opportunities cost GCHS gridders

By Tony Panozzo
Staff writer

The Granite City football team's season-opening loss to Cahokia last Friday was full of missed opportunities, missed tackles, first-half mistakes and plenty to learn from.

But the Warriors, who entered the season with a number of first-year starters, came away with a better idea of where they stand following the loss of several senior players to graduation. Despite its inexperience, Granite City held its own competitively and had a chance to overtake Cahokia several times in the second half during a 14-6 loss.

"It felt good to get a game in, but it was disappointing we didn't get a victory," GCHS coach Don Harris said. "You really have to have a game to assess where you're at and the things you need to work on."

"We felt we were right there.

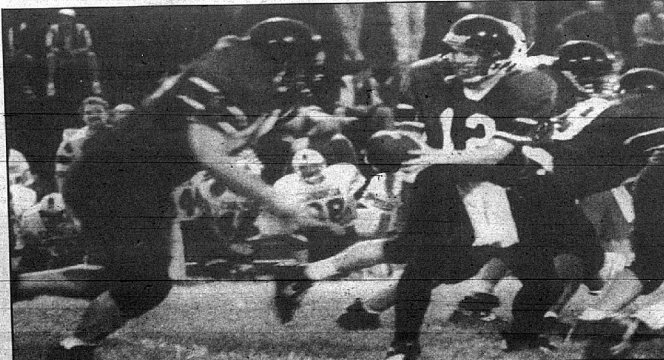

We needed to get some points in several spots, and we just didn't come away with any."

WITH CAHOKIA AHEAD 12-6, the Warriors took the opening kick in the second half and marched from their own 29-yard line to the Cahokia 16. A 31-yard run by Mike Kalpis keyed the drive, which took up most of the third quarter, and the Warriors appeared to be a few plays away from tying the score.

But Granite City's offense stalled once inside the 20-yard line, and senior placekicker Tony Buchak's 22-yard field goal attempt came up short. Cahokia's defense kept the Warriors out of the end zone, and the Comanches' next drive resulted in a game-clinching field goal by Will Garner.

"We drove the ball downfield and if we could have scored, that would have made a big difference."

(See GCHS, Page 3B)

GCHS quarterback Jerome Hoback hands off to fullback Pat Curry in Friday's game against Cahokia. Curry rushed for 62 yards in the Warriors' 15-6 loss.

Sports shorts

Softball tournament
The Granite City Steel Softball Association will host a Class C and D men's tournament Sept. 9-11.

The entry fee is $125. Based on a 16-team field, first place will be worth $700, second place will be $450, third place will be $250 and fourth place will be $125.

For more information, call Rick Demaree at 931-4774 or Cindy Schubert at 931-5634.

Golf scramble
The Edwardsville/Glen Carbon Chamber of Commerce will host its third annual golf scramble Oct. 7 at Fox Creek Golf Club.

The fee of $70 per golfer includes 18 holes of golf with cart, greens fees, one mulligan per person per team, and food and beverages. Lunch will be served at 11:30 a.m., and the tournament will begin with a shotgun start at noon.

Prizes will be awarded for longest drive and closest to the pin. Attendance prizes will also be presented.

Beverages will be available throughout the course, and dinner will be served after the tournament. Non-golfers are welcome to join the group at 5:30 p.m. for dinner at a cost of $5 per person.

Four-player teams can be assembled in advance or matched up at the event. To register a team or to sign up as a $50 fee sponsor, call Rosanna Herren at the Chamber of Commerce office, 655-7600.

In case of inclement weather, a rain date will be announced.

Spoonhour at Sunset Hills
St. Louis University men's basketball coach Charlie Spoonhour will headline the second annual SIUE Celebrity Golf Benefit, scheduled for Monday, Sept. 19, at Sunset Hills Country Club in Edwardsville.

All proceeds will benefit SIUE men's basketball. The tourney includes a round of golf, cart, refreshments, team prizes and a buffet dinner.

In addition to Spoonhour — the 1993-94 Basketball Writers Coach of the Year — the list of celebrities scheduled to attend includes SIUE president Nancy Belick, KSDK-TV sports director Mike Bush and noted Final Four official Ed Hightower.

SIUE coach Jack Margenthaler will host the event, which has a 12:30 p.m. shotgun start. A reception will be held at 6 p.m., with dinner being served at 7.

Registration is $150 per person or $600 per foursome. Fee and/or green sponsorship is $100. For those wishing to attend the dinner and not play golf, the cost is $40. A total package of a four-some, one fee sponsorship and dinner for all is $700.

For more information, call Margenthaler or SIUE assistant athletic director Brad Hewitt at 692-2871.

Herzog at Annbrar
Former Cardinals manager Whitey Herzog will play in the second annual BAC Baseball Celebrity Golf Classic, scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 22, at Annbrar Golf Course in Waterloo.

Participants will play the 18-hole course beginning with a shotgun start at 11 a.m. Four-person teams will compete against celebrity teams. The entry fee of $100 per player or $400 per team includes greens, dinner, attendance prizes, hole prizes and awards.

Proceeds from the tournament will benefit the BAC baseball program. For more information, call coach Neil Pials at 255-2700 or Harry Easley at 939-8666.

Bantam II tournament
A Bantam II baseball tournament will be held Sept. 10-11. The cost per team is $100. Each team is guaranteed three games. For more information, call (314) 426-1406 or (314) 427-1728.

The 16-and-under Eagles/Sharks girls fast-pitch softball team is holding tryouts and forming an all-star squad. For more information, call (314) 296-8841.

Cardinals tryouts
The Subway Cardinals, a Midwest 1 baseball team, is holding tryouts for catchers, pitchers and outfielders. The team will play at least 45 games. For more information, call Jim at (314) 458-3921.

Stuggers tryouts
The St. Louis Stuggers are forming an 11-and-under fast pitch softball team for the 1995 season. For tryout information, call Mike Grasso at (314) 458-4833, Ken Andrews at (314) 968-4194, or Bob Zeller at (314) 394-0168.

Gators tryouts
The nationally ranked St. Louis Gators, a girls 18-under softball team, are seeking a number of select players to complete their 1995 roster. For more information, call Craig Walston at (314) 552-2800.

Softball tryouts
The St. Louis-area Maniacs fastpitch softball team will conduct tryouts for under-8, under-10, under-11 and under-12 teams from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 3.

Tryouts for under-13 through under-16 teams will be held 11 a.m.-3 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 4. All tryouts will be held at Webster Groves (Mo.) High School. For more information, call Sam at (314) 527-3600, Deb at (314) 943-4178, Pat at (314) 965-5288 or Ken at (314) 227-4229.

Tennis clinics
West James Courts in Bellefontaine Neighbors, Mo., will offer a women's advance clinic beginning in September. A morning and afternoon clinic will focus on doubles play. The fall/winter junior program for intermediate to advance players will also be starting in September. For more information, call Mike Fisher at (314) 869-4200.

A free junior clinic for new players ages 8-14 will be held from 4-5 p.m. Sept. 16. To sign up, call 869-0790.

Mixed doubles tennis for men and women (2.5-5.0 level of play) will begin in September. The league will be played on Saturday nights once or twice per month. Call 869-0790.

Baseball, softball lessons
Grand Slam is conducting fall and winter instructional programs in baseball and softball. Lessons in hitting, pitching, fielding and catching will be offered. Six-person hitting leagues are also forming for an October start (ages 9 to high school). For more information, call (314) 845-6300.

ference," Harris said. "That took the wind out of us."

Granite City came back with another long drive following Garner's field goal. The Warriors made it to the Comanche 8, but Cahokia's defense turned back GCHS once again and the Warriors came away empty when another field goal attempt by Buchek sailed wide left.

"Twice in the second half, we drove downfield and had to get points," Harris said. "That was the ballgame right there. We needed some good things to happen in those situations, but we didn't take advantage. It was still anybody's game until the last quarter."

Granite City's only score of the night came in the second quarter, when senior fullback Pat Curry punted into the end zone for a 1-yard touchdown. Buchek's extra-point attempt was blocked.

Defensive tackle Chris Janek set up the score when he rushed into the Comanches' backfield and recovered a fumbled punt by Romel Wither. Janek recovered at the 7, and Curry scored the game-winning touchdown.

"He did a super job," Harris said of Janek. "He kept the quarterback on the scramble all night. He's quick and very agile."

Janek, a junior, led Granite

Janek

Niepert

City's pass rush and also had a sack in the second half.

While Janek stood out defensively, Curry was the Warriors' offensive workhorse. He finished with 62 yards on 12 carries.

Curry, a 6-3, 255-pound Division I college prospect, carried tacklers along on several plays and has proved nearly impossible to bring down in short-yardage situations.

"He made some things happen for us that they couldn't stop," Harris said. "He's a force. He's become a much bigger runner. Every time he runs the ball, he gets five yards. Someone said he had 62 yards and those had to be the toughest 62 yards anyone got the whole evening."

When he wasn't running the ball, Curry helped pave the way as a blocker for Kalips and Billy Niepert. Kalips, a senior, led the Warriors in rushing with 90 yards on 19 carries. Niepert, a junior, had 24 yards on six carries.

"Kalips and Niepert give us a good look," Harris said. "We can relate them in and out and they're always going to give you 100 percent."

The Warriors' backfield was led by quarterback Jeremy Hoback, who made his first varsity start in a tough debut for Hoback, a junior who did not complete a pass in nine attempts.

"He's still learning," Harris said. "He's a junior and he had limited varsity experience last year. Cahokia put a lot of pressure on him, but in the same regard he's young."

The Warriors' backup quarterback, Kyle Briggs, is also young. But the sophomore saw some action defensively and delivered the hit of the game when he brought down Cahokia fullback Titus Taylor hard near the GCHS sideline to end the first half.

"He's a good quarterback, too," Harris said. "We'll probably get to see him sometime. He's inexperienced, but he's a good athlete."

Taylor and Cahokia tailback James McGee did most of the damage offensively against the Warriors. Taylor led all rushers with 130 yards on just eight carries, while McGee finished with 114 yards on 11 carries and two touchdowns.

Cahokia's speed was a major key in the first half, when the Warriors struggled to keep up with McGee and Taylor in the open field. McGee's 76-yard touchdown run gave Cahokia a 12-0 lead in the first quarter.

"They had a couple long runs, and that's where the speed factor came in," Harris said. "Defensively, we played well most of the game. (But) we had trouble tackling. We're young. I think we were well prepared, but our inexperience came to the top a few times."

Buchek, making his first varsity start, kept the Warriors in the game early in the second half when he chased down Taylor after a long run. Taylor raced 65 yards and made it to the Warrior 6 before Buchek caught up and brought him down. Four plays later, the Comanches settled for Garner's 29-yard field goal.

"He actually saved a touchdown," Harris said of Buchek. "He followed the play and ran the man down. He's going to become a very good player. He's fun to coach."

The Warriors will play another non-conference home game this week against O'Fallon before beginning the Southwestern Conference schedule Sept. 9 at Belleville West. O'Fallon is coming off a 16-0 victory over Mascoutah.

"Our schedule doesn't get any easier," Harris said. "This is the first time we play O'Fallon, and it should be a tough game."

Warriors

Petrov's first goal was assisted by Justin McMillian, and Matt Little assisted on the next one. The defense took over from there as Granite City closed out the victory with a strong showing in overtime.

"We clearly had the better of the play," Baker said.

The match was marked by physical play and exhaustion brought on by the heat. Several players had to leave the game because of illness, and Granite City's Jeff Hayes was sidelined by a back injury early on.

The Warriors outshot the Knights and had a 7-1 advantage in corner kicks, but were called for 20 fouls to 15 for the hosts. Six yellow cards were issued.

Baker said several players stood out for the Warriors, Baker said. Goalkeeper Mike Bristol was in net the entire match.

"Mike gave us very good leadership," Baker said. "He gave us a good effort. He made one brilliant save in the second half. I thought Jon Reader had a good game. Nizinski was real strong early. Wilson's really coming on. He's coming into his own and finding his role."

The Warriors were scheduled to play three matches this week, all at The Gauntlet — beginning with Tuesday's home opener against Chic Memorial. After facing McCluer North on Thursday, the Warriors will take on Vianney in a showdown against one of the area's strongest teams Saturday night.

"We really have to get our game together," Baker said. "We have to get it going. We have a tough week ahead of us."

Justin McMillian had an assist in overtime in Saturday's 4-2 victory.

Golfers

(16th place) and O'Fallon finished at 450 (23rd). For the Warriors, John Green led with a seven-over 78. Ken Felty shot an 81, and Greg Bixler and Ryan Duff each shot 83. Pat Schuman rounded out the Granite City scoring with an 84.

"Those are good scores," Chaney said. "I am happy with these results. There is still a lot of improvement to be done, but that speaks well for the team's talent level."

Individually, Quincy's Eric Freese was the only golfer to make par, shooting a 71 to win solo honors. Phil Caravia of Belleville West led a group of four golfers who finished over, including O'Fallon's Todd Hancock and two other Quincy golfers. None of Granite City's players finished in the top ten.

"Looking at the team scores, we were one of the more consistent teams at the tournament," Chaney said. "Considering we had no one in the top ten, but yet no one shot over an 84 that shows me we are on the right track as a team."

The Warriors were set to host Marquette and Metro East Lutheran on Tuesday. Granite City was scheduled to play at Edwardsville on Wednesday, but the match was in jeopardy of being canceled because of the teachers strike.

Lady Warriors

be the frontrunners for the top doubles position.

The team of seniors Liz Brooks and Amy Boring will probably handle the No. 2 doubles spot. Ames likes their experience and Boring's hard hitting.

Two or three teams are in the running for the third and final doubles position. Two juniors, Erin Cain and Heather Hoeninger (a transfer from Hazelwood East) will see plenty of action this fall.

Another team, which includes a pair of seniors, will get playing time as well. Lea Ames and Jennifer Lewis just started together as a team and will see action if they continue to improve, Coach Ames said.

Two others waiting in the wings are freshman Adina Lewis and sophomore Kim Conway.

Another young team, sophomores Julie Hildebrand and Marlo Hutchison, have come together recently.

"Things have really fallen into place for them," Ames said. "It's nice to have so many teams that can play. The only problem is finding room for all of them."

The Lady Warriors open the season with two consecutive home matches — a rare occurrence in 1994. Only six of Granite City's 16 matches will be played at home, and even home won't really be home for a while.

"The first one or two matches, at least, will be held at the (Wilson) Park courts," Ames said. "The courts at the high school are in bad shape, and some work will have to be done there before we can play a match there, I think."

Granite City was to open Tuesday against Triad before facing O'Fallon on Wednesday.

"It should be interesting," she said. "The girls really are working very hard and we are all excited about the season. The way they've come along in the last couple of weeks says something about their attitude."

as he won his heat and the Champion Spark Plug Dash.

Tommy Scott roared from his third starting position in the SKOAL Bandit Racing Sprint Car main to grab the lead and breeze to his eighth win of 1994. Wayne Sternbergh and Randy Bateman trailed Scott across the stripe.

Stu Springer won his third Super Sportsman main of 1994 over Bob Martinson.

Nursing classes 'go the distance'

This fall, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is offering two nursing courses leading to the bachelor of science in nursing completion degree program in what educators consider an exciting new format — televised or "distance" learning.

The new telecommunications system uses two-way video and audio transmissions.

Two classrooms, one on the Edwardsville campus and another at Shawnee Community College near Ullin, Ill., have become one through an advanced telecommunications network — one professor, one course and two sites — interacting with one another (talking, sharing information, building personal friendships and professional contacts, while learning together).

With the new telecommunications network, students at both the originating and receiving sites are able to see and hear their professors and one another. Students sitting in the receiving classroom are able to direct questions and comments to their professors as well as other students, through the use of microphones.

This new format of teaching/learning was made possible through a statewide Illinois Board of Higher Education-funded initiative and a grant awarded to the SIUE School of Nursing from the Nursing Division of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. The IHHE grant is directed through regional consortia and provides the necessary equipment for televised classes.

Marcia Custer, associate professor of nursing at SIUE, is directing the project. Cynelle Baccus, assistant professor of nursing at the university, is assistant director. Both educators are excited about the new program.

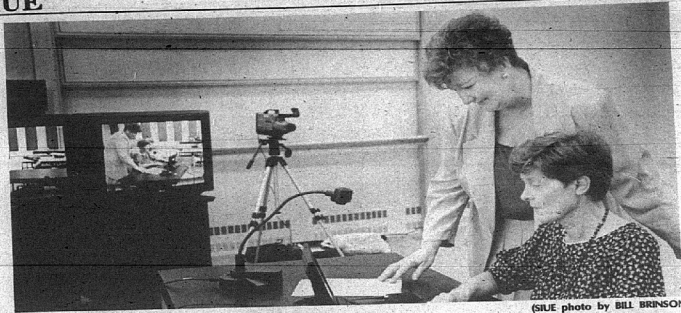

"The grant will provide opportunities for faculty development, as well as needed educational opportunities for registered nurses in Southern Illinois," Custer said.

Baccus echoed the director's sentiments, saying, "We are excited about working with Shawnee College to provide this needed program for registered nurses living and working in these areas."

Accredited by the National League for Nursing, the BSN completion program is a two-year program specifically designed for nurses who have earned associate degrees in nursing, and graduates of accredited programs at community colleges and hospitals. SIUE is the first school in the consortium to offer classes in the two-way televised format. However, by spring, other members of the consortium will have similar learning activities under way.

FAMILY

Party marks Savannah Faith's birthday

Edward and Pamela Faith of Granite City honored their Savannah daughter on her ninth birthday Aug. 10 with a swimming party at the new Wilson Park Pool.

In attendance were 87 guests who enjoyed an evening in the pool. Music from the '50s was played throughout the evening. Savannah was honored at 9:56 p.m., her actual birth time, and those attending sang "Happy Birthday" to her.

Savannah and her parents wish to thank all those who came and joined in the festivities and also to thank everyone for the gifts and money she received.

H&amp;R Block Offers Income Tax Course In Metro-East

Thousands of people learn how to prepare income tax returns from H&R Block and then earn money as income tax preparers. H&R Block, the world's largest income tax preparation service, offers its Income Tax Course starting September 12. Morning, and evening, classes are available.

Experienced instructors teach tax law, theory, and application. Classroom discussion and practice problems provide students with a thorough understanding of each tax topic included in the course. Students learn how to handle increasingly complex income tax situations as the course progresses.

Ideal for people who want to increase their tax knowledge, the course teaches students how to save money on their taxes and also prepares them for a rewarding career.

The affordable fee includes textbooks and supplies. Graduates receive Certificates of Achievement and continuing education units (CEUs). Qualified graduates of the course may be offered job interviews with H&R Block but are under no obligation to accept employment.

Those interested in more information about the H&R Block Income Tax Course may contact H&R Block at 1-800-TAX-2000.

INJURED MUSCLES

The term "strain" refers to the circumstance of a muscle being suddenly pushed beyond the usual demands placed upon it and the damage that results. As the muscle's connecting fibers are stretched beyond their limits, they tear and/or become inflamed. If the muscle strain is not too significant, the muscle will usually repair itself in fairly short order with rest. On the other hand, severely strained, injured, or overexerted muscles may go into spasm. Muscle spasms may also result from musculoskeletal problems, particularly in the lower back. Instead of contracting and relaxing in quick succession, muscles in spasm stay contracted. The result is a contraction of the tiny blood vessels that supply oxygen and nourishment to the muscles and a strong pain signal to the brain.

The slightest change in the function of our nervous system affects our health. For this reason we dare not assume that we are healthy until we have our spinal column examined to see if nerve interference exists in our bodies. This is the basis for the office of WARREN A. STEWART, D.C., D.C. focusing upon preventive health care. We find the cause of the problem and correct it through adjustments - without drugs or surgery. Don't suffer needlessly, call 398-2121 for an appointment. We're located at 10251 Lincoln Trail, Suite 12, Fairview Heights.

P.S. Chiropractors are particularly adept at diagnosing the cause of muscle spasms, as well as relieving the immediate pain.

Access-A-Thon scheduled for Sept. 25 at SIUE

The fifth annual Access-A-Thon 5K Run and 2K Family Fun Run is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 25, on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The entry fee for the 5K run is $10; children 10 years old and younger, $9. On-site registration fee is $14. Registration for the 2K run is $10 per adult; children, $9, maximum per family, $35.

There will be a $14 on-site registration fee for the 2K run. Check-in time on the day of the race is 7 a.m.; the 5K run begins at 8:30 a.m.; the 2K run will begin immediately after the 5K run.

The Access-A-Thon - hosted by SIUE Disabled Student Services, the Illinois Rehabilitation Network and the Illinois Rehabilitation Association - will offer prizes, including trophies for the 5K run, to overall winners in three brackets, and sweat pants, sweat shirts, and turtle-neck shirts to the top three finishers in each age group. A trophy will be awarded in the 2K run to the first-place family in each age bracket; other prizes will be awarded based on the number of entrants.

A free sweat shirt will be given to the first 400 entrants in both races. Call SIUE Disabled Student Services, 692-3782, or Brenda Mersinger, 466-8135.

TV show on county tax bill to air starting Sept. 5

Madison County Treasurer and Collector, John Shimkus, has announced that his television show explaining the county tax bill will be shown on cable the week preceding the due date for the second installment of taxes.

"We are quickly approaching the date when all taxes should be paid, and I wanted to give all the taxpayers one more opportunity to learn about their tax bill," Shimkus said. "This will also help those individuals who received a recent reassessment calculate their approximate 1994 tax bill.

Copies of the video were sent to all of the local taxing districts, including the public libraries, for any citizen who does not receive cable television. The show will be aired on

Crown Cable channel 3, and TCI/LCCC channel 18 at the following times:

Sept. 5 at 5:30 p.m.
Sept. 6 at 5 p.m.
Sept. 8 at 6 p.m.

Vietnam vet looks for survivors

By Steve Birmingham
Staff writer

As president of Search Efforts and Recovery from Communist Hands Inc. (SEARHC), Gray is deeply involved in investigating and reporting on the whereabouts of American prisoners of war (POW) and American servicemen missing in action (MIA) in Vietnam. And since his return from Vietnam last year, he is even more convinced that while his group has not yet rescued an American from a POW camp, it will. "We're a group of individuals who feel Vietnam's and our government have had time to resolve this issue and haven't," Gray, a sales representative for Bruening Bearings, Inc., a bearing distributor firm in Benton, "We've banded together and raised money and gathered the latest intelligence we can. We go to Vietnam and talk to the people in the areas of the sightings."

"The 45-year-old Mohrville resident, who did a hitch in Vietnam with the 25th Infantry Division in 1968, presides over the non-profit group that includes not only veterans, but private citizens as well. He returned in September 1993 with a search team of three others to investigate an alleged POW camp near the borders of Cambodia, Laos and Vietnam. "People don't realize that the borders there don't exist anymore," Gray said. "The troops are heavily armed, and there's fighting all the time."

Gray met his fellow search party members for the first time in Los Angeles as they waited for their flight to Vietnam: John Cusack of Montrose, Colo.; Buzz Parish of Indianapolis; and Rick Will Sr. of Manchester, Md.

"The first thing that hit me when I got off the plane was the smell," he said. "Not the heat although that caught up to me later—but the smell. Vietnam, man, it was just Vietnam." Their destination was the alleged camp in an area known as Seven Mountains. Intelligence from a Vietnamese man in the state of Washington said 14 American POWs were being held in a camp near Seven Mountains.

"There were supposed to be 11 Caucasians and three blacks at the camp, plus 20 to 25 armed guards," Gray said. "The source said the guards let the POWs out every day for an hour at about 6 a.m. But first we had to get to a place called Phai Temple. We hitched a ride to Seven Mountains, and it took about 10 hours. We abandoned our Vietnamese guide and started talking to the people ourselves."

"We took along some bars of soap, aspirin and some T-shirts to give to the people. The shirts had the message 'U R not 4 got N' (You are not forgotten) printed on them. In case a Vietnamese was wearing it, an American POW might see it and know we were there."

"A person living behind the temple was the father of the man who cooked for the camp. But when we got there we searched and couldn't find a trace of American POWs."

Undaunted, the search team continued on into more treacherous regions.

Their search continued throughout the countryside without seeing anyone fitting the description of an American POW. At one point the search took them through a valley laden with booby traps and mines.

"We passed a sign written in Vietnamese that warned about the valley, but didn't even realize it," Gray said. "We walked right through it." The search team later came upon Chou Kim, a hilly region that has caves underneath. Photographs taken of the hills show many large rocks scattered in the hillside with numerals and letters painted on them. One pattern clearly shows the letters "G," "I" and "S." Another rock, a skull and crossbones painted on it, while a third had a peace symbol.

"That was a really spooky place," Gray said. "We saw the small caves that the Vietnamese would push the Americans into to hide them. They were definitely there."

After three weeks of searching, Gray's team came up empty-handed.

"We're not a bunch of crazy people doing this," he said. "There have been 10 teams that have done this before, and there's one there right now. We're trying to raise money to finance another search team."

It's a shame you have to do this when it's the government's job," the mission of SEARCH is to raise funds to finance the search team's efforts in Vietnam, Gray said. It costs about $5,500 to finance a team's airline tickets, passports, immunization shots, and other expenses. SEARCH is holding a POW/MIA rally and march to the Arch on Saturday, Sept. 10. The rally kicks off at 11 a.m. with guest speakers at Soldier's Memorial in downtown St. Louis. For more information, call (314) 551-7859.

Proof of identity needed for SS card

By Bill Hunot
Social Security Administration

Q. When I was in high school I applied for my first Social Security card at my local post office. All I did was fill out an application card, and a few weeks later I received my Social Security number. Recently, I got married. I contacted Social Security to have my name changed on my Social Security card. They wanted to see my marriage certificate. When I questioned this, the Social Security worker told me that they need even more evidence now for original Social Security numbers. When did this change and why?

A. Congress passed a law in October 1972 that required Social Security to obtain evidence of age, identity, and citizenship (or legal alien status) before issuing a Social Security number. The law was phased in over a number of years until the current policies were established in May 1978. The law was changed to inhibit the use of Social Security cards to establish false identities.

It's well-known that Social Security numbers were never intended for use as identification. In practice, however, they have become a national identification number — a unique identifier that virtually all public and private organizations use to file records.

So it is important for Social Security reasons and for countless other reasons that fraudulent misuse of numbers be minimized.

Applications for an original Social Security number must be accompanied by evidence of age, citizenship and identity. Usually a birth certificate will establish age and citizenship. A diver's license, medical record, school or work identification card are good examples of evidence of identity.

If you are changing your name, the easiest way to fulfill the evidence requirement is to present your marriage certificate, divorce decree or other evidence of the change. Applications for a duplicate card generally require evidence of identity only.

Q. What is the meaning of the letters behind the Social Security number on Medicare cards?

A. Those letters are called beneficiary identification codes which, of course, are called BICs around Social Security offices. Here are some of the most common BICs and their meanings: A, retired worker; B, wife; E6, divorced wife; C, child; D, widow; D1, widower; E, young widow; W, disabled widow.

Q. How does someone apply for disability?

A. You can apply for benefits over the phone and through the mail. Or you can visit your local Social Security office. Either way, call 1-800-772-1213 and ask for an appointment. When you apply, try to have the names, addresses and phone numbers of your doctors, hospitals and clinics that have your medical records.

Social Security also will ask you for your birth certificate, proof of your military service and your W-2 tax form from last year. Don't delay in applying, though.

Social Security can help you obtain any evidence and information you need.

Church conference scheduled Sept. 23 at Lady of Snows

The National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows will sponsor a Conference on the church from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 23, at the Dr. Tom Dooley Center.

The topic, "Can We Find Jesus in the Church or Must We Look for Another?" will be presented by the Rev. Michael H. Crosby of Milwaukee. The discussion will focus on how people perceive the church and Jesus' role within it.

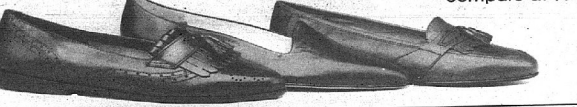

The Rev. Michael H. Crosby is a Capuchin

Franciscan of the Midwest Province. He lives in fraternity with other brothers serving the poor in Milwaukee's downtown area. He has given many retreats, workshops and talks on discipleship and has also written eight books and several magazine articles on various religious topics.

Pre-registration is required. Registration fee is $5. For additional information or registration, contact Barb Reynolds at the Shrine at 397-6700.

Lively Taste

A little Cajun seasoning goes a long way. Mix your own by combining 3 tablespoons paprika, ½ teaspoon red pepper, 1 tablespoon garlic powder, 2 teaspoons oregano, 2 teaspoons thyme, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon white pepper, ½ teaspoon cumin and ¼ teaspoon nutmeg.

Health & Fitness

Medicine Chest

When planning a trip outside the United States, check on what immunizations are needed in plenty of time, so you can plan to get them a month in advance. A pharmacist or physician can help find the information for safe travels and happy trails.

Fresh Picks

Fresh green beans — some people call them snap or string beans — have much more flavor than canned or frozen varieties. They have vitamin A and potassium, as well as a fair amount of vitamin C. They are low in calories — about 30 calories per cupful. Enjoy their crunch in a veggie-laden green salad. Use just like snap peas or sliced cucumber. To heighten color and flavor, drop in boiling water, then in ice water before chopping for salad.

Big Fat Tip

As people age, they need fewer calories. Eating less fat has special benefits for these people, because fat has more than twice as many calories than carbohydrates, like fruit, vegetables or grains.

Future Shop

In spite of the dominance of carbonated drink sales, bubbles are not as big as they used to be. Bottled water has fallen in 10 years from 25 percent to 17 percent of the beverage market. Sports beverages, iced tea and fruit drinks are the new stars in beverages. Some people find non-carbonated beverages easier to consume and, sometimes, digest.

Start

By Janice Denham
Staff writer

If this year has not been so sweet, cheer up. Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish new year, is about to let everyone take a fresh start.

This year the first month of the Jewish lunar calendar falls on the solar-based date of Sept. 6.

Just as in biblical times when the promised land was to be "flowing with milk and honey" (Exodus 3:8), the hope for the new year is that it be sweet and full of bounty.

Honey abounds in Jewish new year foods. Carrots, because of their sweetness and their name meaning "increase" in Yiddish, are another favorite. Carrots cut in rounds and resembling gold coins, are cooked with honey to form tzimmes.

All these recipes — noodle kugel sweetened with fruit, sweet-and-sour fish, tayglach (cookies) and a

SWEET-AND-SOUR FISH

- 1 cup julienne-cut carrot
- ½ cup thinly sliced celery
- 2 tsp. oil
- ½ cup orange juice
- ¼ cup honey
- 1 tsp. grated ginger root
- ½ tsp. salt
- Pinch black pepper
- Pinch cayenne pepper
- 1½ lb. halibut steaks or snapper filets

Preheat oven to 425°. Oil 13-by-9-inch baking pan. In medium skillet, stir-fry carrot, celery and onion in hot oil until tender-crisp. Add orange juice, honey, ginger, salt and black and cayenne pepper. Bring mixture to boil.

Arrange fish in prepared pan. Spoon vegetable mixture over fish. Bake in preheated oven, allowing 10 minutes per inch of thickness of fish or until fish flakes when tested with fork.

Private Label Test Run

Flavorite cheese snack crackers help fill the shopping cart with less costly snacks.

Economical snacks great for munching

Journal tasters set out to see if they could help keep family budgets from ballooning when prepared snacks are on the shopping list.

Flavorite brand cheese snack crackers from Dierbergs Markets were the munchies they sampled. At $1.39 for a 10-ounce package, they offered substantial savings — up to $1 — over comparable national brands at the same store.

They were tangy, tasty and a good buy, tasters agreed. Their flavor "zing" offered middle-of-the-road appeal. A person who prefers less spiciness said, "They leave my tongue buzzing," while a person who likes food spicy wanted a little more pizzazz.

All agreed the crackers left an inviting aftertaste. One said it was more flavor than just salt, which was a positive for it.

"Their color is good," one taster said. "Other cheese crackers are so bright, but these have a more natural look to them." Their nutrition labeling came up for review, too. Flavorite cheese snack crackers have one-fourth less fat — six grams, rather than eight grams.

"Maybe that is why they taste a little more like crackers than national brands," one taster suggested, as they discussed how the flavoring seemed less intense.

Another characterized the flavor as "more cheddar than cheesy." "I don't eat (the national brand) a lot and I don't find a big difference," a tester said.

Testers thought they would be a boon to budget-minded people or those needing lots of snacks for a party.

A taster added, "With lower price and if they are better for you, I think they're a good deal for the value."

Wise Ways

Bagged lunches earn 'A' for safety

While the best choice for a safe and nutritious lunch probably is a school type-A lunch, some kids prefer lunch from home.

The trick is to pack tasty foods that stay safe four to five hours, plus provide one-third of a child's nutritional needs — protein, minerals, vitamins, carbohydrates and fiber, without providing too much fat or sodium.

For safety, perishable foods must be kept icy cold or piping hot. If refrigeration is not available, send perishable sandwich fillings such as egg or ham salad in a cold thermos, to be spread on bread at lunchtime.

Sandwiches and yogurt may be frozen and popped in that state into a lunch box. This helps keep other foods cold until lunch while it thaws its own way to lunch. To keep more than a few hours, add an ice pack. Hot chili, leftover pasta or soup can be sent in a preheated thermos.

Always prepare foods with clean hands, clean tools and clean work surfaces. Clean lunch boxes daily in hot soapy water. Discard paper bags after one use.

Use fresh, clean and properly refrigerated or cooked foods. Do not send leftovers more than one or two days old.

Lunch bags that contain the traditional soda, chips, cookies and a lunchmeat sandwich do not fare well nutritionally, yielding about 770 calories, 35 grams fat (41 percent of the daily value), and 1,935 milligrams sodium. All-in-one meat/sausage/crackers/dessert lunch packages are not any better, containing 22 to 35 grams fat and 1,670 milligrams sodium (70 percent of the sodium needed per day).

All these lunches could benefit from the addition of at least two servings of fruits and/or vegetables, and a lower-fat milk or protein choice.

Ready-to-eat fruits and vegetables are most likely to be eaten. Orange sections, melon cubes, grapes, banana, apple slices, raisins, berries, raw vegetables and dip or salad fare better than bulky or too-juicy alternatives. Plan to prepare them yourself or, if preparation time disappears, buy pre-cut raw carrot sticks, broccoli and cauliflower florets and single-serving packages of applesauce or fruit cocktail.

Send salad dressing in a separate container to prevent the "soggies." An empty spice container works well.

A nutritious lunch should include a grain product, a protein food and a dairy item, as well as fruits and vegetables.

Vary the carbohydrate by alternating types of bread with pita pockets, crackers, pasta salad, granola, cereal, popcorn, muffins or quick breads.

WALKING SALAD

- 4 medium apples
- 2 tsp. lemon juice
- 1 cup fresh fruit, such as sliced strawberries or banana, blueberries, grapes or raspberries
- 1 carton (8 oz.) low-fat vanilla yogurt

¼ cup chopped English walnuts

Slice top from apple, then core and hollow. Brush hollow with lemon juice to prevent browning.

Combine yogurt, fruit and nuts. Spoon into apples.

FRUIT AND CHEESE POCKET SANDWICHES

- 1 cup seedless grapes, cut in half
- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded low-fat mozzarella cheese
- 2 pita breads, halved to form pockets
- 2 tbsp. salsa

Mix grapes, cheese and salsa. Fill pita halves with cheese filling.

Garden-to-table crops let cook play farmer

Farmers' markets and home gardens are bursting with late-summer vegetables. Peppers, tomatoes and corn all beg to help set the table.

As bumper crops ripen, enjoy their just-picked freshness unadorned. Juicy tomatoes still warm from the garden, crunchy pepper rings in salad and sweet corn picked minutes before cooking taste wonderful just as they are.

Later, try more creative but equally helpful ways to serve the bounty. Many recipes using fresh corn have a creamy texture. To cut fat and calories, substitute skim milk products and lean ham for those calling for cream, cream cheese, butter and bacon. Corn is high in fiber and complex carbohydrates. Although used as a vegetable, tomatoes are really a fruit. Packed with vitamin C, potassium and vitamin A, tomato varieties are endless. Keep meatless tomato sauce flavorful by using lots of fresh herbs. Can, freeze or share it with neighbors who are less fortunate — that is, those without gardens.

Make fresh salsa with diced tomato, onion, hot peppers and lime juice. Include a little diced green tomato for extra zing.

Peppers, both hot and sweet, brighten any dish. Add them to casseroles, rice, pasta, salad and soup. Stuff an assortment of sweet peppers — green, red, yellow, purple and orange — with seasoned grains and cooked beans for a dazzling presentation.

Wear plastic gloves when handling hot peppers, because they contain oils which can burn more than taste buds. Peppers are high in vitamin C. Red varieties contain lots of vitamin A.

As late-summer vegetables mature, they lose some tenderness and flavor. This is the time to roast or grill corn, tomatoes and peppers to bring out their smoky sweetness. They complement pasta, grilled chicken and fish with their color, texture and robust flavor.

Here is just one way to use bumper-crop veggies.

LATE-SUMMER SALSA

- 1 cup diced red tomato
- 1 cup diced green tomato
- ½ cup diced green bell pepper
- 1 cup fresh corn, cooked
- ¼ cup chopped green onion
- 1 tsp. finely chopped jalapeno pepper
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 tsp. fresh lime juice
- Salt and pepper to taste

In bowl, combine red and green tomato, bell pepper, corn, onion, jalapeno, garlic, lime juice, salt and pepper. Stir well.

Serve with fat-free tortilla chips, fish or poultry.

Family without a stove took their winning meal to grill

Jim Muskopf, St. Charles, is this week's winner of dinner certificates to the Pasta House Company for Easy Meal on a Grill.

His meal answered adversity when kitchen remodeling left him without a stove, sink or oven.

Weekly winners on the four Wednesdays in September will be taken from entries in the Pasta Salad Recipe Contest, which should be posted here today. A recipe will be accepted for salad made with any pasta — mostaccioli to macaroni, angel hair to tortellini.

A single entry in either contest should be sent to: Pasta Salad or Apple Cake

Recipe Contest, 1714 Deer Tracks Trail, St. Louis, Mo. 63131.

Micro Raves

By KATHY HANEWINKEL

Microwave, tea, tofu fit Japanese cuisine to a 'T'

The Japanese refer to their cuisine as "sappari"—clean, light, neat and honest. Tea is so important that girls study the Japanese tea ceremony in school.

Tea is the most popular beverage in the world. How long the leaves are allowed to ferment determines whether it is green, oolong or black.

A tea purist fills a spotlessly clean pot or cup made of china, ceramic or glass with hot water.

Microwave on high power 2 to 3 minutes for one 6-ounce cup, 3 to 3½ minutes for an 8-ounce cup, 4½ to 6 minutes for 2 cups, about 8 minutes for 3 cups or 10 minutes for 4 cups.

Add tea leaves when the water boils. Steep 3 to 5 minutes for black tea, 4 to 6 minutes for oolong, 7 to 8 minutes for green tea. Oversteeping develops a bitter flavor.

Personally I notice no negative results when tea is added before the water is microwaved.

Reheating tea in a microwave could not be easier. Simply pop the cup in the oven and heat on high 10 to 60 seconds until as hot as desired. To avoid bitterness, do not let it boil.

The Japanese consider tofu another basic food. Mispaced by association but cool by purpose amid the supermarket produce, soybean milk curds are pressed into blocks.

It comes in varied consistencies. Chinese use firm tofu in stir-fry. Regular or soft tofu is more popular in Japanese soup, salad, egg dishes and dessert.

Creamier, silken tofu makes custard, dressing and dip. Tofutti is a familiar form made into soft-serve dessert similar to frozen ice milk.

The lactose intolerant welcome it, but it should be tried by all. It is a high-quality protein that can be used in chili, lasagna, burgers, mousse, custard or pudding.

Tofu has less fat than most meats and no cholesterol. Eight ounces lean ground beef contains 406 calories, while eight ounces tofu has only 147 calories.

Store tofu in the refrigerator and use by the date on the package. Its openness to picking up other flavors—a boon to versatility—means it should be kept tightly covered. If open, fresh cold water should be replaced on it daily.

Beverage mixes give drinks, desserts great, cool twist

There still can be plenty of big thirsts to quench this year. Refreshing party punches, long and tall patio sippers and frosty fruit drinks can be refreshing by the pitcher. But that's not all. For something new, use low-calorie drink mix to flavor a delicious dessert like Cheesecake.

To quench warm-weather thirst at soccer games, iced tea fans will love the hint of apple in Iced Apple Tea. It is easy to mix and tote in a thermos to football or soccer games. For a breezy, tangy-sweet delight, mix cranberry and raspberry flavors for easy refreshment.

To cool taste buds in dessert, try Lemony Cheesecake for rave reviews.

For more entertaining tips, the makers of Crystal Light offer a new booklet with recipes, plus a page of festive party napkin folds. To receive a copy of "Refresher Course," write to: Recipe Book Promotion, P.O. Box 8948, Maple Plain, Minn. 55922, enclosing $1 for postage and handling.

ICED APPLE TEA

- 1 tub low-calorie iced tea mix
- 6 cups cold water
- 2 cups apple juice, chilled
- ice cubes

Place drink mix in large plastic or glass pitcher. Add water and juice. Stir to dissolve.

Serve over ice. Makes eight (1-cup) servings.

RASPBERRY CRANBERRY REFRESHER

- 1 tub raspberry low-calorie drink mix
- 1 tub cranberry low-calorie drink mix
- 4 qt. cold water
- ice cubes

Place raspberry and cranberry drink mixes in punch bowl. Add water. Stir to dissolve.

Serve over ice. Makes sixteen (1-cup) servings.

- 1½ cups vanilla wafer crumbs
- ¼ tsp. cinnamon
- 3 tbsps. margarine, melted
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 1 cup cold water
- 1 carton (15 oz.) reduced-fat ricotta cheese
- 4 oz. neuchatel (light cream) cheese, softened
- 1 carton (8 oz.) plain nonfat yogurt
- 1 tub lemonade low-calorie drink mix
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 2 cups reduced-fat frozen whipped topping, thawed

Crush cookies in zippered plastic bag with rolling pin or in food processor. Mix cookie crumbs, cinnamon and margarine in small bowl. Press on bottom and about 1½ to 2 inches up side of 8-inch springform pan. Refrigerate.

Sprinkle gelatin over water in small saucepan. Let stand 5 minutes to soften. Cook and stir over low heat until gelatin is completely dissolved. Do not boil.

In blender or food processor, blend ricotta and neuchatel cheeses, yogurt, drink mix and vanilla until smooth. Pour into large bowl.

Stir gelatin into cheese mixture. Gently stir in whipped topping. Pour into prepared pan. Refrigerate at least 4 hours.

Makes 12 servings.

A closed-end fund can boost dividend

If you're looking to maximize returns in your investment portfolio, and you'd prefer your assets professionally managed, you may want to consider a closed-end fund. These funds, if held over time, often offer attractive returns when compared with comparable open-end mutual funds.

What Is a Closed-End Fund?

Closed-end funds, or investment companies, are capitalized through a one-time public offering of shares. The company does not continuously issue, nor will it redeem its shares.

Investors can purchase shares, once they are issued, in the open market, either over-the-counter or on an exchange; shares are sold in the same manner.

How Are Closed-End Funds Priced?

Unlike mutual funds, which are priced based on the net asset value (NAV) per share (net asset value is calculated by dividing the total net assets held in the fund by the number of shares outstanding), shares of closed-end funds are priced based on the forces of supply and demand, and are traded in a manner similar to stocks and bonds. Shares can sell at a premium to NAV or at a discount below NAV.

Closed-end funds, therefore, are a unique blend of some features of common stocks and professionally managed investments.

Types of Closed-End Funds

Income Funds. Income-oriented closed-end funds invest in a variety of debt instruments (such as government or municipal bonds, mortgage-backed securities, global bonds) for the purpose of providing relatively high levels of current income and varying degrees of principal stability. The relative importance placed on yield generation and principal stability will determine how fund assets are allocated by maturity, credit rating and user (e.g., government vs. corporate; taxable vs. tax-exempt; domestic vs. foreign).

Equity Funds. Equity closed-end funds invest primarily in a portfolio of common stocks or securities convertible into common stocks for the purpose of achieving either maximum capital appreciation or growth of capital and income.

Balanced Funds. Balanced closed-end funds, in seeking to achieve the highest return consistent with a low-risk strategy, invest in debt securities, high dividend-paying common stocks and cash-equivalent instruments. Although these funds tend to provide lower yields than income funds, the potential for long-term share price appreciation is higher than among the mainly yield-oriented income funds.

Remember, when you evaluate the appropriateness of investing in a particular closed-end fund, consider your personal tolerance for risk and make sure it's compatible with the risk profile of the fund you select. Some of the Best Opportunities Can Be Found Overseas.

Globally, and particularly in Europe, the outlook for bonds and bond funds should remain very favorable over the next several quarters as interest rates stabilize in some bond markets and continue to move lower in others, and as inflation fears remain subdued. In anticipation of continuing interest-rate declines, those closed-end funds with the greatest exposure to the European bond markets seem positioned to offer the best returns.

ENTERTAINMENT

Country &amp; West Fest slated Oct. 8-9

The influence of our American West heritage and today's country and western lifestyle will be the focus of the Country & West Fest coming to Collinsville's Gateway Center, Oct. 8 and 9.

The show will feature artists and crafters from around the Midwest displaying and selling Western and Southwestern art, wildlife art, jewelry, crafts, clothing and more. American Western history items and hundreds of books on the West will be available at a Gona West bookstore.

The display will be operated by the Jefferson National Expansion Historical Association, based in St. Louis. It is a part of the National Park Service. Cahokia Mounds will also be participating with a large retail display and exhibit area.

Each day will be highlighted by live entertainment and activities. The Sons of the Pioneers will perform in two shows, Saturday, Oct. 8 at 2 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Indian dances, performed by the Kahok dancers, will also be on schedule for Saturday.

Shelley Mangrum, of "Club Dance" on The Nashville Network (TNN), will appear Sunday, Oct. 9, as host of a day filled with modern country dancing.

There will be dance classes available all day, plus open dancing, exhibitions and a dance contest.

Anyone wishing more information, or inquiring about available retail space, should call 465-1551 or 345-8988.

Horoscope

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 31
 The sensitive moon slips into integrative Cancer. The evening hours bring harmonizing lunar trines with Saturn and Jupiter, making a well-balanced, lucky night to wine and dine clients. The evening moon trines feisty Mars, making folks a bit self-centered. A compromise bridges an ego-related rift. Vigorous Mars trine with Jupiter feeds your body's vitality. Love sizzles. Super stamina makes work a breeze.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Passions ignite. You take charge and inspire confidence. A new love feels safe in your firm embrace. Dinner at your place pleases a pro-family associate and solidifies your position as part of team.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). A partnership enters the limelight and wins accolades for your political savvy and public service. Spotlight financial goals — a solid alliance springboards both players to a business win. Feed love.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). A hunch helps you pull off a big win at work. Dodge distractions — shifting your focus slows your progress and raises questions about your commitment. Pals double date, hitting the latest shows and trendy nightspots.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Lovers play for top stakes. Reach for the moon — your wish is your sweetheart's command. A flash of intuitive timing locks in a business deal. Money surges only in the beginning — play your luck, and rake in the dough.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Still waters run deep. Easing into a relationship with a shy amour promotes lasting love. A nifty move nets big dollars and leaves competitors in the dust. You have a conscientious response to an ethics question.

31. Financial investments pay off. Seek foreign contacts — benefits from abroad are yours through November. A serious sweetheart is ready to commit wedding bells ring anytime from January to April. A cash surge in April finances a second honeymoon. Transforming outmoded habits helps you get ahead fast in June and July. Loving discipline helps kids cope in February. Your lucky numbers are 5 and 17.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Your tantalizing allure draws romantic hopefuls in droves, but a long-time sidekick lassos your heart. Attend community meetings — networking pays off in dollars. Follow your hunch, and save big bucks.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Lovebirds complement one another perfectly. A high-profile partnership opens career doors and brings enviable prestige. Take steps to heal your past.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). A hooked-on-you lover can't resist your charms, and he or she digs in for a long-term stay. A trip brings a business opportunity. Your competitor's hot — move fast to carve out your niche.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). A stock investment fattens your private coffers, thanks to your acumen. Hire a money manager to guard your fortune and curb waste. A date wants you to be his or hers alone. You're leery, so hold off.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Scan the marketplace for fresh ideas. A service business is a financial go — you make a difference by fulfilling the public's needs. A languishing twosome springs back to life when both parties agree to commit.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Your boss announces a new direction for the company — and for you, including a raise, promotion or higher status. Romance takes on an exotic flavor as a pen pal becomes more than a friend. Inspiration strikes — a hobby of yours can go commercial and develop into a new product line.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20). A charismatic date is a spellbinding — you fall in love at the drop of a hat. Your family finds a way to shape up the budget. Paring down spending is easy with your mate's support. A pal offers you a smart financial tip.

Guidelines listed for free lunches at parochial schools

Holy Family Catholic School and St. Elizabeth's School have announced their policy for free and reduced price meals for those students unable to pay the full price for meals under the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs.

The following household size and income criteria will be used for determining eligibility:

- Single resident households with an annual income of $9,568, monthly income of $798 or weekly income of $184 are eligible for free meals; with an annual income of $13,616, monthly income of $1,135 or weekly income of $262 are eligible for reduced price meals.

- Two-resident households with an annual income of $12,792, monthly income of $1,066 or weekly income of $246 are eligible for free meals; with an annual income of $18,204, monthly income of $1,517 or weekly income of $349 are eligible for reduced price meals.

- Three-resident households with an annual income of $16,016, monthly income of $1,335 or weekly income of $308 are eligible for free meals; with an annual income of $22,792, monthly income of $1,899 or weekly income of $439 are eligible for reduced price meals.

- For each additional family member—add $3,224 to annual, $269 to monthly or $62 to above weekly guidelines to determine eligibility for free meals; add $4,588 to annual, $383 to monthly or $89 to above weekly guidelines to determine eligibility for reduced price meals.

Children from households that meet Federal guidelines are eligible for free or reduced price meals.

All meals served must meet patterns established by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

However, if a child has been determined by a doctor to be handicapped and the handicap would prevent the child from eating the regular school meal, the school will make substitutions prescribed by the doctor. If a substitution is needed, there will be no extra charge for the meal. Those who believe their child needs substitutions because of a handicap should contact the school district for further information.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced price benefits, households must complete the application as soon as possible, sign it and return it to the school. Additional copies of the application form are available at the principal's office at each school. Households should be processed and approved by the school. The required information is:

Food Stamp/AFDC households—If a household currently receives food stamps or "Aid to Families with Dependent Children" (AFDC) for their children, they only have to list the child(ren)'s name and food stamp or AFDC case number and sign the application.

All other households—If a household's income is at or below the level shown on the income scale (above), children are eligible for either free or reduced price meals. Households must provide the following information: names of all household members, the social security number of the adult household member signing the application (or the word "none" if the adult does not have a social security number), the amount of income each household member received last month, where it came from (wages, child support, etc.) and the signature of an adult household member.

The information on the application may be verified by school or other officials at any time during the school year.

If income information is provided and children are approved for meal benefits, households must tell the school when their household income increases by $50 or more per month ($600 per year) or when their household size decreases. If a food stamp or AFDC case number was listed, the household must tell the school when they no longer receive food stamps or AFDC for their child.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If a household is not eligible now but has a decrease in household income, an increase in household size or a household member becomes unemployed, they should fill out an application at that time.

In certain cases, foster children are eligible for meal benefits regardless of the household income. If a household has foster children living with them and they wish to apply for meal or milk benefits for them, they should complete the application.

Households dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss it with the school. Households also have the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing Rev. William P. Fisher, pastor, 2606 Washington Ave., Granite City, Ill., 62040-4510, or by calling 877-7158.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, national origin, age, sex or handicap. Anyone who feels they have been discriminated against should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C., 20250.

College students: exercise caution

Illinois State Police Director Terrance W. Gainer recently reminded area college students to take some extra precautions as they head back to campus.

"Just two years ago," Gainer said, "a young coed, Tammy Zywicki, was murdered as she was en route to her school. Despite a nationwide search for her killer, the case remains unsolved. This tragic incident should remind all young people to plan safety into their trips."

The Illinois State Police has a number of suggestions to help make the journey back to class safer, Gainer said.

- Take the time to have your car checked out by a mechanic before a long trip.

- Never let your gas tank go below a quarter full.

- Whenever possible travel with someone else.

- Let someone know the route you plan to travel, when you're leaving and when you think you'll arrive. If there are any changes in your schedule, be sure to call and let them know.

- If possible take a cellular phone along on the trip. If the car breaks down it can keep you from being stranded in the middle of nowhere.

- Always stay with your car. If someone offers a ride to the nearest gas station, ask them to go themselves and send for a tow truck. In no situation should you get into their vehicle.

- Don't hitchhike; don't give a stranger a ride.

"These are good tips for any traveler," Gainer said, "but we'd like young men and women heading back to school to keep them especially in mind. When they can do a great deal to ensure their own safety."
